

Qustodio expands platform support to Windows 8

Parental control software support now available in French, Italian, English and Spanish

BARCELONA, SPAIN, January 10, 2013 – Qustodio, a leading parental control software company for families worldwide, today released Qustodio version 1.80, which adds support for Windows 8 users and expands its language offering to four languages: French, Italian, Spanish and English. Qustodio is among the leading software companies developing free parental control solutions for the Windows 8 platform.

Qustodio has expanded its core offering of its flagship product, recognizing the need for additional languages and new platform support, while remaining dedicated to delivering internet safety and protection for families worldwide. The release of Qustodio version 1.80 features include: Windows 8 Support: Support for the new platform in addition to Windows XP, Windows Vista and Windows 7.

· Multi-Language Support: French, Italian, Spanish and English free downloadable software with guaranteed customer support. Pricing and Availability: Qustodio Free: Free with one week of reporting history now available.

· Qustodio Premium: $49.95 per year, with a full month of activity reporting history, as well as game and application blocking. Available now.

About Qustodio: Qustodio, founded in 2012, develops leading parental control software solutions for families worldwide. Qustodio empowers parents to have greater visibility into all online activity including social networks. Its revolutionary approach to information provides actionable intelligence for parents to make quick decisions and take control. Qustodio is headquartered in Barcelona, Spain and can be found online: www.Qustodio.com, via Twitter: @Qustodio and on Facebook: Qustodio Parental Control.